

If you can learn to read, you can learn to paint!

Whether you last picked up a brush at school, or fancy brushing up on your techniques, enjoy an evening of fun and creativity in a friendly atmosphere. It's fun, and relaxing, and with step by step tuition, you will leave with a knowledge of techniques to play with, a painting to show off - and an energising sense of achievement!

About me, Leigh Roberts

I've illustrated for clients such as Elle magazine, First Direct, National Lottery, and Tanqueray Gin.

I was lucky enough to be included amongst the winners of the Scottish Portrait Artist Awards, and to feature on Sky TV's Portrait Artist of the year competition.
